ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Dr Hennie Schoeman is working with children the Gestalt way after training with Victor Oklander in Santa Barbara, USA. She has been working with children and families for more than thirty years.

Hennie is a retired senior lecturer at the University of North West. She has also taught at the University of Pretoria, University of South Africa (Unisa) and Wellington Huguenot College. She has already presented over 200 workshops in Play Therapy and Sand and Clay work. She presented papers and participated in international conferences in the USA, UK, Canada, Mexico, Sweden and RSA.

She is founder of the Centre for Play Therapy and Training. The Centre provides training and services in Gestalt Play Intervention, in all provinces of South Africa. The Sand and Clay workshop takes place twice a year at Dylemkei Retreat, Gansbaai in the Western Cape.

The Service Learning Programme is also taking place once a year in the Overberg district in the Western Cape. Several local schools are involved in this highly popular programme. This programme is not only beneficial for the children of the Overberg but provides hands on practical experience for professionals with constant supervision after every contact during the programme.

She is married to Boet Schoeman and lives at Dylemkei, a farm outside Gansbaai. They have three married daughters and six grandchildren.

She can be contacted at tel: 028 3800348 or 072 730 2597 E-mail: playtherapy@worldonline.co.za Web page: www.gestaltplaytherapy.co.za
